AUSSIE COMES TO THE AID OF KALAMUNDA HOME BUYERS WITH NEW STORE

At a time when the banks are winding down services in Kalamunda, leading mortgage broker Aussie has invested in the future of the area with a new store.

Set for official opening on November 11, 2014, the new operation was spearheaded by veteran Aussie mortgage broker John Kennebury with the franchise store located in the heart of the town at 2 Barber Street.

In partnership with former Federal Member turned mortgage broker, Paul Filing, Mr Kennebury, and the father and son team of Sandro and Matthew Panicciari at Aussie Kalamunda are bringing good old-fashioned personal service to residents in the charming area.

Mr Kennebury launched Aussie's first franchise store in Western Australia in Belmont and has long desired to take Aussie's high class broking proposition and service to the Hills.

"Kalamunda has a unique and distinct character as well as a fantastic lifestyle for its residents. In contrast to the move to have Kalamunda made part of the bigger City of Belmont, we decided to take Aussie from Belmont to Kalamunda", said Mr Kennebury.

"Aussie is now locally based and ready to offer borrowers more choice and better service through ease of access at its new store in Barber Street."

To celebrate, Aussie founder and executive chairman Mr John Symond AM will officially open the store, with local business leaders and Hon. Simon O'Brien MLC in attendance.

Aussie Kalamunda

When: 3pm, Tuesday, November 11, 2014

Where: Aussie Kalamunda, 2 Barber St, Kalamunda
